

More information on all scholarships, including tips on how to make your application stronger, is available on Drexel's fellowship website. Students should also look on-line for additional funding opportunities, such as the website Studyabroadfunding. Scholarship deadlines may be much earlier than study abroad deadlines, please plan accordingly.

General Scholarships

- * Gilman Scholarship \(All locations\): This program offers awards up to $5,000 for study abroad, for U.S. citizen undergraduate students who are receiving federal Pell Grant funding. This is a national scholarship and is highly competitive.

- * NSEP, Boren Scholarship \(Asia, South East Asia, Middle East, Africa\): NSEP (National Security Education Program) was designed to provide Americans with the resources and encouragement they need to acquire skills and experiences in areas of the world critical to the future security of our nation, in exchange for a commitment to seek work in the federal government.

- * The DAAD \(German Academic Exchange Service\) Undergraduate Fellowships \(Germany\): The goal of this program is to support study abroad in Germany and at German universities. Highly qualified undergraduate students from the US and Canada who pursue study abroad in Germany are encouraged to apply.

- * The Bridging Scholarship \(Japan\): The Association of Teachers of Japanese Bridging Project offers scholarships to American students participating in study-abroad programs in Japan. Undergraduate students majoring in any field of study are eligible to apply for these scholarships. Japanese language study is not a prerequisite. Applicants must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents and be enrolled in a college or university in the United States.

- * National Association of Japan America Societies \(Japan\): A variety of other scholarships specific to Japan may be found at the web site.
